Dwight Gary Gilliland, MD, of Oak Ridge, Tennessee, received the prestigious Gold-Headed Cane Award at the School of Medicine commencement exercises on May 26. Runners-up were Kent Mark-Josef Adler, MD, of San Francisco and Connie Celum, MD, of Taft.

The highest honor a graduating medical student can receive, the Cane is presented to the UCSF senior judged by classmates and faculty as best exemplifying by his or her performance the qualities of a "true physician."

The three nominees for this year's award were inducted into the distinguished Gold-Headed Cane Society the evening before commencement.

Adler will take his residency training in internal medicine at New York Hospital, Cornell Medical Center. He is a 1980 graduate of Harvard-Radcliffe College.

Celum will stay at UCSF to do her residency in general internal medicine in the primary care program. She graduated from Stanford in 1979.

NEWS BRIEFS

Training Program in Fresno; Diane S. Colby, adjunct assistant professor of biochemistry/biophysics; Carol J. Jessop, assistant professor of medicine; Mervin J. Goldman, clinical professor of medicine; Molly Cooke, assistant clinical professor of medicine; and Philip Goodman, associate clinical professor of radiology and medicine.

An additional four School of Medicine graduates were honored with Academic Excellence Awards given by the school's Alumni/Faculty Association during homecoming on May 19. They were: David Hwang, first place; James Mason, second; Steven Chuck, third; and Scott Kelley, fourth. Hwang, age 20, is believed to be the youngest medical school graduate in the history of UCSF.

Arthur J. Ammann, director of the UCSF Pediatric Clinical Research Center, was chosen the lucky UCSF representative to carry the Olympic Torch in the relay run preceding this year's summer games. UCSF is sponsoring one kilometer of the 19,000-kilometer run, which began in New York and ends in Los Angeles. Ammann will run the UCSF part of the relay around July 14 or 15. Proceeds from the UCSF drawing will benefit the San Francisco Boy's Club.

The Olympic Torch drawing was part of Chauncey Leake Day held on May 22. Some 800 faculty, staff, and students cheered for their favorite stretcher relay race runners, had a picnic in Saunders Court, bought plants and baked goods, and stomped their feet to the tunes of the UCSF Marching Band.

Millberry Union and Hospital Information tied for first place as overall race winners, Pharmacy won second, and Administration, Allergy Clinic, and Alumni tied for third. Pharmacy came in as the fastest team; Millberry Union won for best costumes.

A marble bust of Hygeia was dedicated immediately before the race in the mini-park between LPPI and Long Hospital. The bust was donated by Constantine Raises of San Francisco and sculpted by local artist Harriet G. Moore.

Chauncey Leake Day is an annual tribute to the well-known scientist and founder of the UCSF Department of Pharmacology, who died in 1978.

The 1984 edition of the Campus Compendium, a publication listing the benefits, programs, and resources available to all UCSF employees, now is being compiled. Any department wishing to make additions or changes should write Carol Copperud or Sharon Andreassen at 145 Irving Street, or call x2911.

The School of Dentistry awarded 40 graduates with awards at the school's annual awards ceremony on May 23.

Multiple award winners were: Lawrence Napolitano—Gold Foil Award, George A. Hughes Award, Student Research Award, Northern California Academy of General Dentistry Award, Quintessence Book Award for Excellence in Restorative Dentistry, Dean's Citation Award, UCSF Dental Alumni Professional Development Award; Karen A.
